

Manulife's Pre-Assessment Service helps you make smarter choices on medical treatments

With advances in medical technology, many treatments and simple surgeries can now be performed at a day procedure centre (DPC). Even without hospitalization, patients can receive tailored and professional treatments at DPCs, while saving their time and reducing the risk of cross-infection. Moreover, the government has introduced legislation in recent years to regulate private healthcare facilities including DPCs, allowing the ongoing enhancement of their service and safety standards and the better protection of patients' safety.

As your trusted health partner, we have always moved with the trends and are committed to providing you with more choices. In view of the growing popularity and better regulation of DPCs, expenses related to day case procedures are covered by our medical products, including our individual and group medical insurance policies, starting from April 7, 2021. This benefit is available to both existing and new customers. Meanwhile, we will also be expanding our network of preferred medical service providers to give you an even wider range of choices.

We understand that before receiving your medical treatment, you may wish to gain a better understanding of your policy coverage and the amount of medical expenses to be incurred. That's why we have launched various services to make your experience transparent and hassle-free.

Why should I choose day surgery instead of hospitalization?

Treatment must be based on the safety and specific medical needs of each patient. Whether you choose day surgery treatment or hospitalization will depend on individual circumstances. With advances in medical technology, many treatments and simple surgeries can now be safely and conveniently performed in the form of day surgery. Some hospitals also offer day surgery option. Patients can receive tailored and professional treatment even without hospitalization, while saving their time and reducing the risk of cross-infection. Moreover, the government has introduced legislation in recent years to regulate private healthcare facilities including DPCs, allowing the ongoing enhancement of their service and safety standards and the better protection of patients' safety.

How does Manulife determine charges for inpatient and outpatient treatments?

We have followed the principles of "Medically Necessary" and "Reasonable and Customary" when processing inpatient and outpatient claims, taking into consideration a host of factors such as generally accepted medical standards or practices, the general range of charges, the safety and effectiveness of treatments, and the actual circumstances of individual cases. Frequently Asked Question:

4

My doctor recommends surgery at a hospital. How do I decide whether I need hospitalization?

We always have your medical needs and safety in mind. That is why we provide assessment services to estimate the cost of any medical treatments recommended by your doctor to help you understand whether the treatments are medically necessary. The doctor will make an independent assessment for each case, taking the factors of risk of procedure, patient's condition and risk of anesthesia into consideration before making a recommendation. Generally speaking, simple procedures such as OGD, colonoscopy, and cataract surgery can be safely and conveniently performed at day procedure centres. Patients can receive tailored and professional treatment with no hospitalization required. In case such simple procedures are performed in an in-patient setting without the need for hospitalization, the reimbursement amount will be determined based on the charges level of day procedure centres.
