Manulife in 21st Walk for Millions to support Hong Kong Community Chest

Hong Kong — About 3,000 Manulifers turned out this year to Walk for Millions — the 21st time they have shown their active support for this annual event to help raise money for 24 social-welfare agencies under the umbrella of the Hong Kong Community Chest that provide family and child welfare services.

On January 10, Manulife's senior executives from the Regional and Hong Kong office, along with employees, agents and their families and friends, were all dressed up in the company's iconic green wind-breaker and assembled at the Hong Kong Stadium for the 10km hike to Aberdeen Country Park Visitors' Centre. At the midway point, they were served refreshments by Manulife's senior management who dressed as chefs.

"Manulifers have always enjoyed the Walk for Millions," said Michael Huddart, Manulife's Executive Vice President and General Manager, Greater China. "This annual charitable walk combines fundraising and great exercise; participants can enjoy the benefit of getting physically active and walking for a good cause. We are very happy to be part of it and hope to go on Walking for Millions for many years to come."

Manulife and its employees, being active members of the community, are pro-active in sponsorship initiatives and other charitable endeavours that serve those least able to help themselves — the young, the elderly, the sick and the underprivileged.

This sense of corporate social responsibility runs deep, being evident not only at the company level but also expressing itself through the thousands of hours of voluntary work put in by individual employees and agents.
